RENOLIT SE warrants that the above mentioned films for the lamination of substrates for interior and exterior use in vertical assembly of components are manufactured according to the requirements of the worldwide leading and accepted standard RAL-GZ 716 (plastic window profiles, quality assurance, RAL-GZ 716), in the edition of April 2019. This includes all the important specified processing properties, for example:

Colour fastness and the absence of stains, blisters, streaks, cracks as well as peeling. No delamination or other substantial degradation of the visual appearance, caused by exposure to natural weathering and sunlight.

Chemical resistance to all organic solvent-free and non-abrasive household cleansing agents e.g. water, aliphatic hydrocarbons and light alcohol/water solutions.

Excellent mechanical properties (abrasion resistance, scratch resistance)

The requirements of the Product Performance Warranty are fulfilled if the discolouration will be maximal grey scale 2 (ISO 105-A02) within 20 years * of service. This value can be warranted as long as the film is processed according to the requirements of the RAL-GZ 716 and the discolouration occurs due to natural weathering.

* only for selected colours/designs up to 20 years. Details are available on request.
